

Instructions for Authors

The journal KGK Kautschuk Gummi Kunststoffe is an international journal, dealing with research and technology of polymer materials. The journal publishes both scientific and technical articles on rubber and plastics. It strives to maintain a thematic balance between theory, applications, measurement, techniques, analysis etc., and accepts for publication articles written in German and English.

Submitted articles should not have been published elsewhere. It will be assumed that the author possesses copyright control over his work and that the directorate of the institute or company in which research has been carried out has granted permission for the work to be published. Manuscript will be refereed prior to acceptance.

The editorial department asks authors to observe the following points:

- Please send the manuscript to our editorial office, etwina.gandert@huethig.de or to our editor ulrich.giese@dikautschuk.de
